

From a teacher.....

I really like the placemats. I can see, on one page, all of the indicators that I am expected to teach for the entire year. It is much easier than flipping through the standards book. I place a check mark in blue when I introduce an indicator and then another checkmark in red when my students have mastered the indicator. By just glancing at the indicator sheet, I can quickly assess what has been taught and what still needs to be taught.
